Hi Ashley,

Thank you for your 2 recent emails and I'm sorry I didn't respond sooner.

I will leave it with Abbie to arrange the conference and if that's not possible then an appointment just with me and her for now.

Look after yourself,

Hi Elle and Abbie

My Key Worker Gary from WAWY has requested your email addresses to ask for my drug testing results from DNA Legal.

I give consent to anything Gary from WAWY wishes to request.

I would also like to assure you lovely ladies that I am most certainly not having a Mental Health Crisis. Considering with everything that I have had to endure, I am doing exceptionally well.

Police are saying that there is no blood on the inside of my window and that the white powdery substance is plaster board. It isn't. I can't understand why Police would blatantly lie. He didn't investigate the blood on the window, his whole demeanor was completely off entering my home. I've never seen a Police Officer act this way before when entering into my house. I have a good understanding of people with working with the public for 9yrs. That never goes away. It helped me socially as I wasn't confident talking or the best at trying to connect with people at the beginning of my career. It helped me a great deal.

There has been no plastering done recently in my home. Only painting that my Mother and Step Father have been helping me decorate with.

Gary and Jemma from WAWY have witnessed this powdery substance in my bathroom and in the bottom of my stairs. I even showed them the pictures of my feet with that same substance all over my soles.

I've also had my Window Cleaner Danny who has been with us since I moved in, come into my house and garden to look at all this. He made sure to see if he could see anything else untoward because he even said when I answered the door, Ash what's the matter you've been doing great, now you can tell something is on your mind, speak to me I know you enough by now to notice. I wasn't going to say anything but he could tell something was wrong. He chatted with me for about 30mins to make sure I was alright. He was in shock too.

Yet again, I can't do right from wrong, I am always trying my hardest to do the right thing. When I do, it just gets threw right back in my face every single time. I am so sad that the Police have done this to me as I know something is going on, I have evidence of pictures and videos to prove this substance is not for plastering.

I felt like I was being spoken to like a child, the tone and manner of the call handler was not the nicest of experiences with Police. I have never experienced gaslighting as traumatic as this before.

I then had a lovely lady call me, a Mental Health Nurse from A&E and I told her everything and that I don't need an Ambulance, I am not in a crisis, it would be a complete waste of tax payers money. If I was in a crisis and suffering I would hold my hands up and say look I am not good here, I am not well, I need some assistance, I could do with some medical help and support with my mental health.

I think Elle's and Abb's, you's two know me enough by now on how I go about things in life. I would be honest and immediately say this is not a good time for me at the moment or my Son to come back home, I am not ok therefore please keep him where he is. This couldn't be any further away from the truth. I know that I am ok enough to have my Son home with the right help put in place. Back where he belongs with his Mother and seeing his Grandparents.

I then had a Dr Greenwell call me afterwards who was nice enough to listen but was a tad sarcastic with me towards the end. Twice he said Oh so you have woken up and seen two black men in your home or was they in your garden did you say? No I did not say that. Your getting misconstrued. The lady from Torus said exactly the same thing to me earlier on. What black men? The only black men I had in my home we're from Prospero.

This is unbelievable. Imagine if I was suicidal? What are the poor people doing who are in dire straights, actually wanting to commit suicide and Services are treating them so poorly. It is an outrage. My Brother told me this would happen, being treated like this. I wish I would of listened to him. I miss him terribly, I really need and want him back in my life. We only seen each other for just over a month, after being torn apart for months on end. I feel like such a terrible Daughter and Sister now for what I have put my poor family through, they all did not deserve any of this that I have done to them. My Mum gets her other diagnosis this week from the massive lump on her shoulder, after her finding out she has a Tumour on her Colon. Now she is starting to give up after the way I had spoken to her thinking it was her that had done all of this. But Timmy was the only one with a key. What was I meant to think. All they want is to see their Grandson. I know if my Mother would be granted access to have contact with her Grandchild she would pick up the fighting spirit back again, with these new health issues she has to face. My Family must be so fed up with me that they don't know which way to turn next. Nothing has been going right since my car was stolen. This is absolutely awful. We don't deserve this at all.

Now Amanda Howard is going to despise me even more than she already does and tell Judge Bond I'm not a fit Mother for my beautiful Son. And I love Amanda, she's a strong, independent woman, you can just tell she is an outstanding Parent and Mother, such an inspiration. I love the way she talks and carries herself. I'm scared to see her now, more than the Judge I think.

That Prospero company, one of them took my keys as he had asked could he borrow them to go the 24hr Asda for a gift for his Daughter.

When I would clean up in my kitchen I would do the same routine every night because I'm very meticulous in everything I do. I would take my meds, press the lock on my car keys, so I could see through my front door the lights go on and off. Then straight to bed. Most mornings if not every morning my keys would be on the living room floor. Why? I honestly thought to myself are they two searching my car or something for weed? Because they can search all they like there's nothing there, or was they thinking Chris was going to come in the night, take the car and use it? I was too scared to ask anything about my keys because I didn't want anything getting fabricated against me as there was so many staff members. I knew I wouldn't stand a chance against them. All of the staff kept telling me stories of their work, which was interesting to hear. Especially about how their roles worked in our system as it was all new to me. One story in particular stood out to me when they said a woman who suffered mental health issues had had sexual intercourse with one of the black african men. They said that it was the woman who instigated this. What!!! What on earth is going on in the world. Now I'm not racist or prejudice, but this made me sick to my stomach, this was wrong on both parts. Why if she was suffering that much mentally, was her medical report not put down accurately or correctly for all staff to understand she is impaired on some level? I was so shocked. He had obviously abused his role in this system coming from another country to abuse mentally impaired women in our country. They still kept this man on I believe and the woman was blamed for it all. This terrified me even more.

How ironic that all these occurrences are happening to me ever since my car was stolen as I'm edging closer to Court.

I'm so sorry girls that I've been bombarding you with emails. But I am doing this mostly for evidence and to show that I am able enough to correspond and even put an email together, as I didn't have the brain capacity to do so when first starting with Morecrofts.

I've completed my ADHD referral, receptionist had forgotten to give me my Autism referral which I have been waiting for since middle of January. Well I've been waiting for this Autism referral for the last 12yrs when I first told my Dr about it and he laughed in my face. I know I'm Autistic and I'm tired of being not heard, sick of being bullied by Service Providers and treated awfully. Sorry, I've done it again haven't I, you should nickname me 'Tilly On A Tangent'. Christ almighty.

I have a blood test at 10.30am tomorrow, Elaine Thomas from Torus coming out at 12pm which was meant to be on 5th April, but after I spoke with housing to request Safeguarding, I was immediately put through to her, then Abel at 3pm - 5pm.

I would really appreciate it if you could let me know when the Conference is with Amanda Howard please.

Thankyou both so much. Appreciate the two of you's. Take care and catch up soon.

Kindest regards

Ashley Macklin
